

HUMAN SERVICES & REHABILITATION MAJOR

Psychology, B.A.

This major is designed to advance students working in a wide variety of social, medical, rehabilitation, and human service settings, as well as those intending to move directly into support and human service jobs upon completion of the degree. The primary purpose of the human services professional is to assist individuals and communities to function as effectively as possible in the major domains of living. This program will prepare students to meet human needs through an interdisciplinary knowledge base, focusing on prevention as well as remediation of problems, and maintaining a commitment to improving overall quality of life of service populations. This program incorporates and supports the twelve national standards set by the Human Services Research Institute and accepted as the highest expectations in the field.
