

CAPITALS OF THE WORLD/ NATIONAL LANDMARKS

Capitals of the World/National Landmarks

Each spring break, when international travel is judged to be appropriate and there are a minimum number of participants, students have the opportunity to visit a different world center on a University-sponsored tour. If deemed more appropriate, a national landmark will become the destination for the tour. An intensive seven-week course, which meets before and immediately after the tour, is recommended. International travel fellowships are available to students.

TAWC students may participate in the Capitals of the World tour only if they are not taking classes during the session in which the tour is scheduled.
