

PRINT ON DEMAND TEXTBOOK SERVICE

The American Women's College recognizes that textbook costs may prohibit students from purchasing required print course materials, and therefore incorporates no and low cost openly licensed course resources where appropriate. In courses where these openly licensed, low cost materials have been incorporated, the digital course materials are embedded in the CANVAS classroom. For some of these courses, students who wish to have a hard copy of the course resources may be able to take advantage of a low-cost print-on-demand service that TAWC has engaged. For more information about printing course materials in specific courses, consult your educator coach.
