

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE (ESL)

ESL 507: Teaching English as a Second Language (ESL) Methods and Applications (3 credits)

This course is an introduction to the foundations, methods, applications and instructional practices (e.g. WIDA, SIOP) on the teaching of the English language to culturally diverse learners (ELLs). Participants will examine a variety of topics which will include and not be limited to: identifying culturally diverse students, methodology, formal and informal assessment, bridging home and school, technology, advocacy, and research-based school practices within the complexity of language learning/teaching. This course will include an overview of the WIDA English Language Development Standards to learn how to develop language objectives for the ELL student. Additionally, students will conduct an in-depth examination of how learning is organized in culturally responsive classrooms and schools throughout the United States. 12 Hours of fieldwork experience required.

ESL 530: Topics in ESL and Bilingualism (3 credits)

This course will explore federal and state laws related to bilingualism and the fields surrounding English as a second language education. Participants will explore the theoretical, practical, historical, judicial, philosophical, social-cultural, socio-emotional, ethnic identity, regional, socioeconomic factors, political, and sociological context of programs for bilingual learners. Research based models for developing listening, speaking, reading and writing for ELLs and bilingual proficiency will be examined. Additionally, the following areas will be explored: the nature and role of culture, community, families, schools, intercultural communication within the classroom and its intersection with teaching and learning.

ESL 531: Unique Populations of ESL Learners (3 credits)

This course will address both the assessment and instruction of ESL learners preK-12 with disabilities, and/or limited or interrupted formal schooling. Participants will examine the second language acquisitions process, literacy development in the second language, culture, alternative assessment measures, and appropriate instructional methodology for ESL learners with disabilities and/or ESL learners with limited or interrupted formal schooling. Participants will identify key issues in the assessment and instruction of ESL learners with disabilities and/or limited or interrupted formal schooling. Additionally, an examination of the use of alternative assessments for distinguishing between disability, literacy development, and developmental process of second language learning will be explored. 12 hours of fieldwork experience required.

ESL 532: English Language Testing, Assessment and Evaluation (3 credits)

This course is designed to explore the formal and informal Language assessments procedures and instruments for ELLs; selection, administration, and data interpretation (ACCESS), identification of bias and normal variations in performance as well as possible differentiation from learning disabilities. Participants will understand and explore a variety of issues related to state and federal assessment of ELLs and will learn how to use assessments as a tool to place ESL learners appropriately. Additionally, the course will examine issues surrounding the teaching of culturally and linguistically diverse students in the preK-12 classroom. 12 hours of fieldwork experience required.

ESL 533: Language Acquisitions and Literacy Development Part I (3 credits)

This course will explore the theory of research related to first and second language acquisition. Participants will conduct an in-depth examination of learning theories and practices for developing reading skills and comprehension in English as a first language at different education levels. This course will include: the relevance of linguistic difference between the first and second language for reading instruction in English, differences of reading instruction in English (e.g. phonemic awareness, and phonics) for students who may or may not be literate in their first language. 12 hours of fieldwork experience required.

ESL 534: Language Acquisitions and Literacy Development Part II (3 credits)

This course will explore the development of listening, speaking, reading, and writing vocabulary, approaches and practices for developing writing skills, the writing process and formal elements of writing, oral/aural fluency in English at various proficiency levels, social and academic English and academic language for content areas, and the development of metalinguistic skills appropriate to cognitive, academic, and language proficiency levels. 12 hours of fieldwork experience required.
