

AUDITING COURSES

A student may audit a class to acquire knowledge, but not to earn credits or a grade. Students must officially register to audit a course with the Registrar's Office and they are expected to comply with the attendance requirements, complete assigned reading, participate in discussions, and take any examinations.

Registration to audit a course will be approved on a space-available basis. Students cannot change their status from audit to for credit after the close of the add/drop period nor can they later take a previously audited course for credit. Audited courses will be reflected on the student's permanent record.

Additional information about the cost of auditing courses is available in the Auditing a Course (<https://catalog.baypath.edu/traditional-undergraduate/financial-information/>) policy in the Financial Information section of this academic catalog.
