

REHABILITATION, ADVOCACY, AND JUSTICE MAJOR

1

Students must select one course from the following list: JUS 498 Justice Studies Internship, WEL 400 Leadership in Practice, WEL 440 Leadership in Practice.

Justice Studies, B.A.

Students will gain the advanced knowledge and skills needed to protect vulnerable women, children and families affected by the justice system. The program focuses on the most effective safety protocols and community social services. Students learn how to assist clients with court statements and appearances. They will evaluate a wide variety of real-life cases and determine the best practices for dealing with each situation. Students will investigate the ethical implications of working with victims and those incarcerated in women's jails, prisons, and juvenile facilities.
